

Profile

Myrene McLeod – Consulting Associate

TTC., Dip. T&D., Dip. Bus (PMER)

Following a first career in teaching, Myrene has almost 20 years experience in the field of adult education and organisation development. This includes performance analysis, leadership and management development, competency development and performance management systems.

She has extensive experience in all aspects of learning and development, including the training of trainers, workplace assessment, human resources and organisational development. Working with leaders, she applies a range of tools to enable competency definition, identify potential and foster performance. She is also an experienced facilitator and coach.

Myrene has worked both in, and consulting to, a wide range of organisations in the private and public sectors and has coached individual contributors, managers and executives to improve performance.

She has been an active member of the New Zealand Association of Training and Development (NZATD) and spoken at their conferences. She has also been a member of the International Society for Performance Improvement (ISPI) for 10 years and retains strong links with the performance improvement community in the USA.

Myrene works in association with clients and colleagues to improve the performance of individuals and teams to improve their contribution to business results. She prefers a collaborative approach, focussing on real improvement outcomes.

In addition to her teaching qualifications she has a Diploma in Training and Development and a Post Graduate Diploma in Business.
